NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY AND NATIONAL SECURITY COLLEGE
SCHOLARSHIP FOR WOMEN
CONDITIONS OF AWARD

1. INTRODUCTION

Each year the National Security College ('the College') at the Australian National University ('the University') may offer a number of awards known as the National Intelligence Community and National Security College Scholarship for Women ('the Award').

The objectives of the Award are to:

- foster the talent of Australian women from a diverse background and skillset who are interested in national security and pursuing a career in the national intelligence community,
- showcase the College's programs for high achievers, and
- provide an opportunity to standout women who may otherwise be unable to undertake a Master of National Security Policy degree.

Funding for this Award has been provided by one or more Commonwealth government agencies in the National Intelligence Community ('NIC'). The members of the NIC are as follows: the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission ('ACIC'), the Australian Federal Police ('AFP'), the Australian Geospatial-Intelligence Organisation ('AGO'), the Australian Signals Directorate ('ASD'), the Australian Security Intelligence Organisation ('ASIO'), the Australian Secret Intelligence Service ('ASIS'), the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC), the Defence Intelligence Organisation ('DIO'), the Department of Home Affairs and the Office of National Intelligence ('ONI').

2. BENEFITS

The value of the Award is stated in your letter of offer. The duration of the Award is for the duration of the program. The Award is applied to the recipient's tuition fees at the beginning of semester unless otherwise stated in the letter of offer.

5. SELECTION

Only eligible applicants will be considered for the Award. Selection is made on the basis of responses provided in the application and academic performance (including research achievements). Other factors such as prior work experience, which the Selection Committee considers appropriate and which align with “the NIC's and the NSC's strategic direction and priorities”, may also be taken into account.

Additional factors to foster diversity and inclusion may be taken into account and may include (in the following order of preference), but are not limited to:

1. Graduate from a rural/regionally based university
2. Graduate from a STEM discipline
3. Indigenous status
4. Educational access or disadvantage

The Award is offered to a student by a selection committee chaired by the Master of National Security Policy Academic Director (or nominee). The selection committee will also include one representative from ONI, up to two staff members from the College and may include one representative from the National Intelligence Community.

In the event that there are multiple suitable candidates, applicants may be invited to attend an interview as part of the selection process, at the discretion of the Chair of the selection committee.

The selection committee reserves the right to make no award if it considers there is no applicant of sufficient merit. The selection committee may also vary the number of Awards and/or offer the Award at other times in exceptional circumstances or based on the standard of applications or students (where funds allow).
