NATASHA LINARD SCHOLARSHIP FOR WOMEN IN ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY

CONDITIONS OF AWARD

1. INTRODUCTION

Each year the ANU College of Systems and Society ('the College') may offer an award known as the Natasha Linard Scholarship for Women in Engineering & Technology ('the Award').

The objective of the Award is to support women who are undertaking their third (or later) year of an undergraduate program within the ANU College of Systems and Society. The Award aims to help build the recipient's leadership skills in technology, business and community areas and to develop a mentoring relationship with prominent professionals in the private and public sectors.

Funding for this Award has been provided by the Linard Family and a range of donors, including the ANU College of Systems and Society in memory of Dr Natasha Linard, a member of the first undergraduate engineering intake at the ANU. As one of the first women students to graduate with an ANU Bachelor of Engineering and subsequently with an ANU PhD in Engineering, Dr Natasha Linard was and continues to be, an outstanding and inspiring role model for women engineers.
