1. INTRODUCTION

Each year, the John Curtin School of Medical Research (JCSMR) ('the School') within the ANU College of Science and Medicine ('the College') at the Australian National University (ANU) may offer an award known as the Alexander McTaggart Memorial Scholarship ('the Award').

The objective of the Award is to support a student undertaking their Honours project at the John Curtin School of Medical Research, with the research to be conducted in a field related to cancer research and allied subjects.

Funding for this Award has been provided in the memory of its donor, Mr Alexander McTaggart.

2. BENEFITS

The value of the Award is stated in your letter of offer. The duration of the Award is up to the length of the program, to a maximum of 12 months. The Award is paid in equal instalments, after the census date each semester, unless otherwise stated in the letter of offer.

The recipient is responsible for making payment of all tuition fees by the prescribed date as set out by the University each session. Recipients of the Award are responsible for the costs of books, study materials, accommodation and all other costs of study.

must be submitted on or before the closing date published on the ANU Scholarships website.

5. SELECTION

Only applicants who meet all the eligibility criteria will be considered. Selection is made based on academic merit and the potential impact and quality of the proposed project in a field related to cancer research or allied subjects.

Where there are more equally ranked applicants than there are Awards available, preference may be given to applicants with stronger evidence of prior research experience.

The Award is offered to a student by the JCSMR Scholarship Committee, which includes academic members from each research Division within the John Curtin School of Medical Research.

The Selection Committee reserves the right to make no award if it considers there is no applicant of sufficient merit. The Selection Committee may also vary the number of Awards and/or offer the Award at other times in exceptional circumstances or based on the standard of applications or students (where funds allow).

6. CONCURRENT HOLDING OF AWARDS

A recipient of the Award is permitted to hold concurrent student financial awards as outlined in the ANU coursework scholarships, grants and bursaries procedure.

7. DEFERMENT

The Award cannot be deferred.
